As we finish reading George's Secret Key to the Universe, we will be writing a critique that is a type of writing that states and supports an opinion about a text or part of a text. In a critique the students will offer an evaluation with evidence from the text in support of the opinion. Strong critiques convince readers or listeners to agree with the opinion presented by offering solid evidence in a strong organizational pattern.

In Social Studies, the students have been selected by "Travel Time Tours" to develop a new brochure for travelers throughout the world, who are excited about a new adventure to an interesting and exciting place! This opportunity enables you to assist the tourism industry and use your creative and artistic talents as well! In this new position, you are responsible for creating a travel brochure to a province or territory you that you selected within Canada.

We are practicing for our final presentation at P.S. 196: GRADUATION!
