What We Are Learning in Fourth Grade?

Reading -Readers are continuing our study of exploring impact and effect. We are reading fiction and non-fiction texts about Earthquakes.

Writing - Writers will use organizational structures, specific word choice, and evidence when writing an opinion piece. They will be writing their own piece on which texts most effectively teach them about the impact of natural processes on human beings.

Math - We are reviewing key concepts and starting to be introduced to topics that will be reinforced in 5th Grade.

Social Studies - Our historians will be continuing to studying the American Revolutionary War, which will lead into the formation of the United States of America.

Science-Our scientists will be studying Earthquakes in combination with our literature unit and our next STEM project.
